Abstract Guido de Latte

Guido de Latte, Representative for Marine Cadastre ELRA, Belgium - ‘Legal aspects of the Marine Cadastre.’

The marine cadastre is a term which knows many different definitions. The sea parcel is also a term that needs explanation in order to understand how a marine cadastre should be established.

The UNCLOS is an important legal framework that regulates the use of the sea. It is a complex structure also because the sea is divided in various zones, each with a distinct set of rules and provisions.

The presentation will reveal how all these zones can be identified (tagged) and what specific regulations would apply.

Finally the consequences on the national legal framework pertaining to marine cadastre will be discussed.
